

4-H CONSUMER ECONOMICS PROJECT

4-H THRIVE

Help youth:

Light Their Spark

A spark is something youth are passionate about; it really fires them up and gives them joy and energy. Help youth find what it is about consumer economics that excites them.

Flex Their Brain

The brain grows stronger when we try new things and master new skills. Encourage youth effort and persistence to help them reach higher levels of success.

Reach Their Goals

Help youth use the GPS system to achieve their goals.

Goal Selection: Choose one meaningful, realistic and demanding goal.

Pursue Strategies: Create a step-by-step plan to make daily choices that support your goal.

Shift Gears: Change strategies if you're having difficulties reaching your goal. Seek help from others. What are you going to do when things get in your way?

Reflect

Ask project members how they can use their passion for consumer economics to be more confident, competent and caring. Discuss ways they can use their skills to make a contribution in the community and improve their character or establish connections.

In this project, youth learn about consumer economics by partnering with adults to discover how to properly use money to get the things they want. Youth can participate in a variety of 4-H consumer economics projects including money management, purchasing, media awareness, budgeting and more.

- Identify needs and wants, and how youth spend money on each.
- Make informed consumer decisions to reach goals and solve problems.
- Learn how media and marketing impact youth decision making.
- Know your rights as a consumer.

Starting Out Beginner

- Set a budget, make a list and go shopping.
- Compare and contrast "needs" and "wants."
- Compare the cost of generic and name-brand products.
- Develop a savings plan to buy an expensive item.
- Compare the price of similar pieces of clothing (jeans for example) at a variety of places.
- Use a paper ad to determine the value of products based on size and price.

Learning More Intermediate

- Set goals to spend money wisely.
- Compare TV, radio and print ads.
- Create a budget that features a plan for saving, spending and giving.
- Compare return policies of different vendors—stores and online.
- Prepare a product complaint letter.
- Tour a community bank.
- Graph U.S. inflation over time.
- Develop a resume for a job search.

Exploring Depth Advanced

- Identify the true cost of different kinds of credit.
- Develop a plan for the future including college, a car and independent living.
- Learn about consumer rights and how to use them effectively.
- Compare warranties for similar products at different stores.
- Explore how advertised products reach target audiences.
- Discuss with your family the value of saving and spending wisely.

The activities above are ideas to inspire further project development. This is not a complete list.

Expand Your Experiences!

Healthy Living

- Use a weekly grocery add to plan at least one healthy meal only using items on sale. Make a shopping list, buy the ingredients and prepare the meal.
- Act out two opposing positions people might take on a consumer issue, such as loaning money to a friend or asking a parent to buy a new cell phone. Use conflict resolution skills.

Science, Engineering, and Technology

- Use an online or mobile tracking system, such as www.mint.com, to track your spending for a month and see where your money goes.
- Identify the consequences of identity theft and fraud, and learn how to protect yourself.
- Use a teen job search website to review job opportunities and get tips on writing a resume.

Citizenship

- Plan a fundraiser for a cause you believe in.
- Go to a senior center and teach adults about safe online shopping.
- Organize a prom dress re-sale or exchange program in your community or school; or organize a food or clothing pantry to benefit local residents.

Leadership

- Help your family identify the difference between needs and wants.
- Volunteer to manage club resources by running for 4-H club treasurer.
- Start a Save for America program at your school. Visit www.saveforamerica.org for more information.
